Congratulations! You have completed the survey, below are your results.

Collaboration Assessment

Section 1

This scale measures your preference for acting independently or working interdependently with others. Some people prefer to work alone and control their environment while other people like to work with a team and involve others. The assessment has a range from -7 to +7. Negative numbers indicate a preference for independence. Positive number indicate a preference for working interdependently.
